Your Organization's Digital Front Door

If your teams work everywhere and at-all-hours, the place where they gather isn't one office – it's the digital workplace. Intranet is your digital front door: when they step through it, it leads them to every resource and person they need to do better work, and engage with everything your organization offers.

Why LiveTiles?

Reignite productivity and efficiency: One, central digital hub makes all your organization's knowledge, communications, apps, and expertise quick-and-frictionless-to-find, and accessible from any device.

Re-engage your teams: An intranet is only as relevant as far as it can be customized to every individual that uses it. LiveTiles' targeting and personalization capabilities maximize relevance for individuals, shaping employee experience for-the-better.

Re-connect people and purpose: Everything your workplace offers – a thriving culture, a strong brand, and personal support – is made accessible to all employees no matter where they work.

Redefine the ROI within your digital workplace: Better digital employee experiences are proven to retain and engage employees, reduce support costs, and increase revenue*.
